The Rank of Boko Haram in the World of Killers

We need no statistics to formalize that at least 99.9% of those who have lived on planet earth have not seen the devil with their physical eyes. But there is a seeming consensus on the nature and forms of manifestation of the devil. Four out of those forms are the attacking, kidnapping, killing and maiming of other human beings without any comprehensible reason and without remorse.

Boko Haram is known to possess these characteristics in large doses. Even Muslims have consistently disowned and described the group as evil. But Boko Haram is not alone in this as you can see in the charts on the left. What is of interest however is how fast Boko Haram has risen to occupy the second position among these gang of bloodthirsty vampires. At its current rate of growth, it is obvious that by next year Boko Haram would have become the first in terms of the brutality and savagery of such organizations globally. At present, the group is the second most savage in terms of attacks and number of persons killed.
